

October 7, 2015

Ulma Forklift, host of the meeting of the European project M24 T-REX

Ulma Handling

The T-REX Consortium held the past 22 and 23 September a new meeting in Oñati, with the aim of providing follow-up project activities that are ongoing.

The new business models this project aims to promote, are oriented models the service, which raises extend the life of products using predictive techniques, redesign and reuse them, supporting decisions online monitoring systems technical state of the critical elements of the selected product.

The project partners is coordinated by Tekniker Foundation and consists of European members of the business world-from Spain involved Cie Automotiva, Esenergia Vortex and ULMA - technology centers and universities were given appointment to evaluate project progress and achievement of objectives both individually and intercooperation of the integral parts.

The first day, which is also a visit to the facilities of ULMA forklifts made, it had as primary focus for the progress made in the methodology of business models, re-engineering services and application maintenance Condition based (CBM) in the three industrial partners involved in the project- (internal transportation of materials, -tool machine and robotics).

As part of the activities during the second day, ULMA, who acted as host and participates in the project to develop a new business model and a manager of its own fleet that seeks to provide specific and relevant information to improve its technical support, he offered a live demo of the first achievements of the prototype being developed.

The T-REX project, to be completed in late 2016, will bring together the consortium in Italy during the month of March with the aim of presenting the fully completed applications and new and innovative business models designed in the course of this project .

ULMA Forklift Trucks provides ideas and innovative solutions for improving the internal management and decision making of their clients. We are in constant evolution, analyzing every novelty and calculating in detail the impact on our customers' businesses.

A₁ A₂

Print Email Share RSS

Agregar Información +

Crear Alerta +

Share

f t in +

Translate

inglés

Con la tecnología de Google